

During the 1980's, Sam Rubin ventured to eastern Long Island and acquired what has since become the beautiful Baiting Hollow Farm Vineyard. Sam, a lifelong farmer and naturalist, began to till the soil, the basis for all great wines, using only natural ingredients. This approach, the acquisition of fine French derivative vines, along with his vision and hard work remain the foundation for one of the area's most exclusive wines. Baiting Hollow Farm Vineyard is the very first that you will see when heading east on Sound Avenue while visiting wine country along the North Fork of Long Island. When you sip our wine and enjoy its smoothness and sumptuous flavor, you will immediately sense the Rubin family's tradition of dedication and caring. Contact us at P.O. Box 245, 2114 Sound Avenue, Baiting Hollow, N.Y. 11933 (631) 369-0100.
